A driver management software designed for your needs

Our advanced driver management technology allows you to create customized driver types, then assign individualized requirements to them. After classifying each driver according to their type, you can instantly measure their compliance.

Examples of driver types may include:

- ✔ Short-haul Driver
- ✔ Long-haul Driver
- ✔ Class 5 Driver
- ✔ Class 3 Driver
- ✔ Refrigerated Freight Driver
- ✔ Auto Haulers

Driver Requirements

Once set up in our software, you can label an employee as a driver, and classify them as a particular driver type. This allows for automation of both their documentation requirements and their training programs.

Using our system, you can gather your drivers' documentation and proof of training within an online course. An employee can complete online courses using their phone, tablet, or computer. When prompted in the course, your drivers can upload an image of their:

Driver's Licence

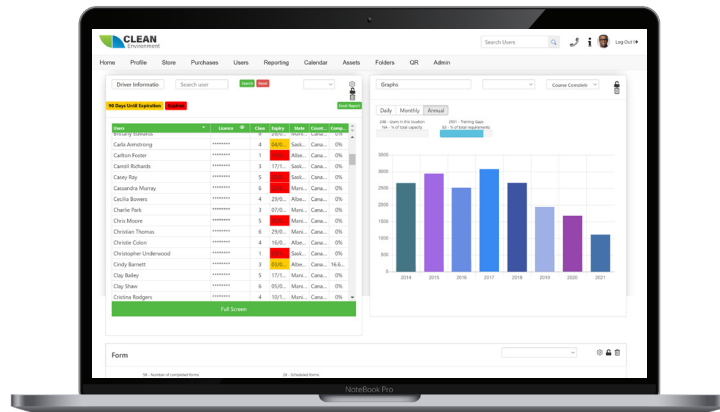

Abstract

Training Certificate

And More

Automation & Notifications

Automate the administrative side of driver management by having the software automatically send notifications for expiring abstracts, training, and assessments to your drivers, their managers, or someone designated to oversee compliance for your company.

Drivers can use the drag-and-drop functionality in their account to quickly upload new documents, such as proof of training or signed policies, whenever something on their file is about to expire.

Security

Sensitive information, like driver's licence numbers, are secured within the system and can only be viewed by administrative level users with the proper encryption keys.

Reporting

Reporting dashboards provide a snapshot of the information you need, whenever you need it. View your drivers' training compliance, incident frequency, upcoming expirations, and more.

You can even schedule Excel reports to be sent directly to your email, so you are receiving up-to-date insights on a regular basis.
